Fabio Crescente

23-24
CSMN
ASTERCLASS

Bassist, double bass player, and Sicilian, Fabio Crescente approached music as a child and, at the age of 8, began studying guitar with his father. He graduated in double bass in 1992, in classical guitar in 2001, in Archaeological Heritage in 2005, and in teaching the instrument in 2008.

He perfected his skills by attending international courses at the Arts Academy Istituzione Sinfonica di Roma, the professional training course for Orchestra di Budrio, the classes at the Scuola Superiore di Studi Musicali 'Ars Nova' in Palermo, and the Jazz music courses at the Berklee School in Boston with Bruce Gertz. He was appointed bassist at the Umbria Jazz Clinics in 1993.

He has been collaborating for several years with various Italian and foreign artists (Ivan Lins, New York Voices, Mario Biondi, Lino Patruno, Jane Monheit, Monica Mancini, Gregg Field, etc).

Since 2018, he has held the chair of electric bass guitar at the 'A. Scarlatti' Conservatory of Music in Palermo.
